MAINE MATTERS.

Senate Votes $100,000 for Eastern talment of the G. A. R.

The Cotton Bagging Bill Taken

Up by the House.

WASHINGTON, April 8. After routine morning business the consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill was resumed. After two hours discussion it was voted, 41 to 10, to appropriate out of the treasury of the United States $100,- 000 for salaries of members of the G. A. R.

The bill was reported to the Senate.

Mr. Call tried to get an amendment for the benefit of the Little Sisters of the Poor and it was ruled out on a point of order, he moved to strike out all the items for charity, so as to leave the whole subject passed upon in conference.

Mr. Vest offered an appropriation for the State Police, and Mr. Call moved he had been carried on for 30 years and had never received a dollar of public money. Last year it had $131 officers.

He had to choose between the bill broken down (drunkards provided for in an item of $3,000 for temporary home for soldiers and sailors) and the bill for the State Police. Mr. Call moved to strike out the bill, so as to have the whole matter of the State Police revised by a conference committee.

After further discussion Mr. Vest resumed his motion to increase the apportion for St. Joseph's asylum from $200 to $2,000 and it was agreed to. As this necessitated a conference Mr. Call withdrew himself to attend the chapter.

The bill was then passed.

After a brief executive session the Senate adjourned till Monday.

Mr. Enloe, of Tennessee, moved that the House go into committee on the private calendar.

The motion was defeated—yeas 91;

nays 104, and the House went into committee on the cotton bagging bill.

Mr. Enloe, of New Jersey, spoke in support of the bill, saying there was trust in California absolutely controlling the output of the raw material. The motion of the bill was taken up by the House. Mr. Enloe moved to strike out the bill, saying that the cotton bagging bill was a mere device to get the House to pass a bill for the benefit of the cotton bagging industry.

Mr. Enloe's amendment was rejected, as was Mr. Terry's.

The committee then rose and reported the bill to the House.

Mr. Turner gave notice that he would ask for a vote on the bill Monday.

The House then took a recess until 8 o'clock.

At the evening session the bill might have been passed. Several members made speeches in support of the bill, but the House adjourned without passing it.

Nothing was done on the bill.

At the morning session the bill was taken up. Mr. Enloe moved to supper will be served.

The driver Lewiston made a quick trip for this time of the year yesterday, arriving in the port at 12:30 p. m.

The steamer Lewiston's last trip from Boston was a quick one and she arrived here about 12:30 p. m. yesterday.

At Fickett's market yesterday a net-ton pound salmon was exhibited. It was caught by Mr. Hard at Waterport.

The Re at Sunbake came down the river yesterday morning and the far upriver regions now seem to be clear of ice.

The funeral of the late Mr. A. K. P.

Leighton will be held from his late residence on Garland street at 2:30 p. m.

Monday.

a public entertainment and supper at their hall on Main street on Monday evening.

Prof. Barnet will be present and give an exhibition of magic and other feats of trickery to be given.

There is an unusually large attendance at the primary schools this term, and all of the other schools have their customary number of scholars. Everything is running along very smoothly and successfully and a profitable term is promised.

State Steamboat Inspectors W. H.

Flowers and Charles Staples, Jr., will inspect the boats on the Rangely Lakes on Monday morning.
